

Module Details
Module Title	Law Dissertation
Module Code	LAW6003-B
Academic Year	2024/5
Credits	20
School	School of Law
FHEQ Level	FHEQ Level 6

Contact Hours
Type	Hours
Project Supervision	8
Tutorials	2
Directed Study	190

Availability
Occurrence	Location / Period
BDA	University of Bradford / Semester 1
BDA	University of Bradford / Semester 2

Module Aims
To enable you to carry out a significant piece of research on a relevant topic of your choice; and to support the application and further development of academic research skills and subject knowledge, through a systematic and extended process of inquiry.

Outline Syllabus
As agreed with the module coordinator and your supervisor.

Learning Outcomes
Outcome Number	Description
01	Evaluate legal institutions, rules, principles, and underlying legal concepts issues in national and, where relevant, international contexts.
02	Evaluate complex legal problems and provide solutions to these deploying systematic legal analysis and, where appropriate, ethical awareness.
03	Conduct independent legal research, drawing on an appropriate range of sources to retrieve and evaluate relevant information and commentary, and to critically apply their findings.
04	Demonstrate deep, contextualised understanding of substantive areas of law, by showing familiarity with and grasp of current academic debates and of relevant doctrinal and policy issues.
05	Demonstrate initiative, independence, the ability to reflect on your learning development and the capacity to make decisions in complex and unpredictable academic and/or clinical contexts.

Learning, Teaching and Assessment Strategy
The Law Dissertation module allows you to follow your interests. You might choose to undertake a traditional dissertation in which you choose your question, research it and present it in dissertation format. Alternatively you may choose to research a particular topic and present your work in alternative formats such as draft legislation, teaching materials, a handbook, a brochure or similar. Workshops on the dissertation and research methods will be offered at the beginning of the year, to support you in understanding the aims and objectives of the modules, expectations in the supervision process, and the criteria that will be applied in the assessment stage. At the beginning of the semester you will be allocated a supervisor and will work independently under their guidance. You will be required to meet with your supervisor at least four times during the year to discuss your progress and receive feedback on your work. Your supervisor will guide you to clarify your research question, find and select relevant material and build an argument and produce your final output. You will have the opportunity to submit your final draft for feedback towards the end of the year. The Law Dissertation module allows you to follow your interests. You might choose to undertake a traditional dissertation in which you choose your question, research it and present it in dissertation format. Alternatively you may choose to research a particular topic and present your work in alternative formats such as draft legislation, teaching materials, a handbook, a brochure or similar. Workshops on the dissertation and research methods will be offered at the beginning of the year, to support you in understanding the aims and objectives of the modules, expectations in the supervision process, and the criteria that will be applied in the assessment stage. At the beginning of the semester you will be allocated a supervisor and will work independently under their guidance. You will be required to meet with your supervisor at least four times during the year to discuss your progress and receive feedback on your work. Your supervisor will guide you to clarify your research question, find and select relevant material and build an argument and produce your final output. You will have the opportunity to submit your final draft for feedback towards the end of the year. You will be required to keep a record of those meetings including a reflection on the meetings and progress on your dissertation and submit this record and reflection after each meeting and as part of your final submission. Formative feedback is provided, via supervision (see Teaching and Learning Methods) throughout the year. All learning outcomes are integral to your successful engagement with the research process and your final submission for summative assessment

Mode of Assessment
Type	Method	Description	Weighting
Summative	Dissertation or Project Report	Dissertation or similar output of no more than 5000 words	70%
Summative	Coursework - Written	Meet record and reflection (750 words); SUPPLEMENTARY Reflection on dissertation process and learning development (750).	30%
Formative	Dissertation or Project Report	Ongoing supervision with feedback	N/A
Formative	Dissertation or Project Report	Supervision with feedback	N/A

Reading List
To access the reading list for this module, please visit https://bradford.rl.talis.com/index.html

Please note:

This module descriptor has been published in advance of the academic year to which it applies. Every effort has been made to ensure that the information is accurate at the time of publication, but minor changes may occur given the interval between publishing and commencement of teaching. Upon commencement of the module, students will receive a handbook with further detail about the module and any changes will be discussed and/or communicated at this point.

---

© University of Bradford 2024

<https://bradford.ac.uk>