Module Aims
The aim of this module is to build on Beginning Midwifery Knowledge 2 and analyse the impact of pregnancy and birth complexities for families on public health and wellbeing across to the course of life. This module also supports the critical analysis of ethnic, gender and cultural differences in relation to the public health agenda.

Outline Syllabus
Interprofessional and multi-agency working, agencies that work with women and their families, escalation policy, data sharing, safeguarding, perinatal mental illness, cultural competency, informed choice, information giving, advocacy, trafficking, vulnerable people, health inequalities, global public health issues.

Learning Outcomes
Outcome Number	Description
1	Apply principles of communication and information sharing for escalation and follow-up with multi-agency team in relation to public health promotion and protection.
2	Critically appraise the role of the midwife health assessment, promotion, and protection as part of a multidisciplinary team and the impact of individualised choice and personalised care on the public health agenda.
3	Critically analyse the impact of health inequalities in pregnancy and birth and the life-long potential impact for families.

Learning, Teaching and Assessment Strategy
Teaching and learning will be supported by a hybrid approach that utilises synchronous and asynchronous lectures and seminars to explore and develop theoretical knowledge, critical thinking and shared professional knowledge (LOs 1, 2, 3). Problem based learning will support exploration and application of knowledge to the professional context and underpin the DMK 2 assessment strategy. Case studies, seminars and workshops will support the application of theory to practice and shared learning (LOs 1, 2, 3). Digital literacy will be developed through a group project. You will have the opportunity for peer feedback on your groupwork in order to inform your summative presentation. Formative feedback on summative work will be available from your personal academic tutor (PAT). Directed learning will support consolidation of key concepts of public health, promotion and protection. The assessment will enable you to demonstrate knowledge and understanding of the subject areas and their application to midwifery practice of women and their newborns with additional care needs.
